System of Preparing Electronic Schedules

Introduction:

It is a pioneering program in scheduling the educational process and the human resources used in it. The program helps to define and show the lecture schedules in addition to the classrooms and halls in which the lectures are supposed to be delivered. It helps in reducing the human resources used in scheduling lectures, examinations, seminars, workshops, conferences, and so on.

Beneficiaries

- ◆ Registrars at the Deanship of Admission and Registration
- ◆ Students
- ◆ Faculty Members

System Objectives

- Reducing the number of the human resources that participate in organizing the time the places of the lectures through adding the groups data to the system. Then the system distributes the data concerning the schedules electronically to the classrooms resulting in reducing the number of the employees who do the same manually.
- Offering the Timetabling Cloud Service which provides easiness of use in parallel with the flexibility of the “cloud” system in terms of remote access, automated issuance, scalability and lowering the total cost of the university..
- Helping the student in managing the schedules without contradictions in the appointments .
- Facilitating the way of occupying the halls and reviewing the ones which are available and unoccupied by lectures in order to use them for holding workshops or forums or even use them for other lectures..
- Reduce the percentage of risks in distributing examination sessions to the halls and saving time through the use of the Exam Management System "ES"...
- The ability of printing reports on scheduling the educational process easily, a matter that reduces the time spent in extracting the timetables..
