Introduction

King Faisal University established its electronic portal to be an effective window for acquaintance with the activities of the university and with whatever service for beneficiaries whether they are university students, faculty members, and employees as well as other beneficiaries national or international. The portal administration specified a number of terms and conditions which, taken together, form a policy for the user that determines the relationship between the portal and beneficiary users. This ensures the provision of a better service and support for making the most of what the content of the portal in terms of information. Since this electronic portal of King Faisal University, referred to as "King Faisal's Portal" or "the portal", is made available for your personal use, your entry and use of it surrenders to the terms and conditions of use whether you are a registered or non-registered user. This approval is effective as of the date of the first use of this portal. One of the most important aims of the portal is that it is to be an informative façade of knowledge, a means of facilitation for beneficiaries in the course of use, a way of increasing awareness, dissemination of knowledge, ensuring the principle of development and positive dialogue and reviewing the role of the university in the sustainable development in the kingdom particularly in the higher education sector. Thus your use of whatever found on the portal certainly means an academic and cultured gain, and any use of information on the portal is the user's personal responsibility. A number of the portal's terms and conditions is subject to continuous update and amendments if the need arises. And any update or amendment shall be effective or approved by the portal administration. This means you are required to constantly review the means and conditions in order to be well-informed of any change. Your use of this portal indicates your being informed and your entire approval of any amendment made to the term and conditions of use, taking into account that these terms and conditions include the property rights and that the portal administration is not required to advertise any amendments to be done to the terms.
